

Chalet Place Blanche 1 Verbier, Switzerland

What we love...

We love the south-facing balcony, which runs the entire length of the chalet and has lovely views out to the mountain and the square below. The ideal spot for a sundowner or three.

The modern-rustic interior of Place Blanche 1 is stylish and welcoming in equal measure.

This luxury ski apartment in Verbier has a fabulous living space, decked out in cool geometrics in sophisticated greys and yellows, set off by colourful modern art on the walls. It's ideally suited to a group of adults, with a bar and open fire and plenty of room for everyone to lounge comfortably after a day on the slopes.

A sliding door screens off the sophisticated dining room and kitchen area if you wish, while your chef is preparing your evening meal – alternatively, you might like to watch the master at work, while you chat over drinks and canapés.

A separate office area and TV room, equipped with DVDs and games aplenty as well as a Nintendo Wii, have enough to keep everyone entertained when you aren't on the slopes.

The bedrooms are individually designed with mid-century-modern furniture combined with a more traditional timber chalet style to create a restful but eclectic feel.

The jewel in this chalet's crown, however, must be its location, looking out over the newly built square, beautifully lit at night, to the mountains beyond. You're merely steps from the most exclusive shops and restaurants in Verbier and could virtually hit the bubble lift with a snowball from your chalet's door.
