

Chalet Place Blanche Verbier, Switzerland

What we love...

We love the two separate living spaces each with open fires. Perfect for large groups and families.

Chalet Place Blanche has one of the most desirable addresses in the heart of Verbier. With views of the newly-built village square and the Medran piste and bubble lift right on your doorstep, it really is the place to be.

This property is a combination of both Place Blanche 1 and Place Blanche 2, to make a spacious duplex apartment sleeping up to 10+2 guests. An internal private staircase joins these two apartments.

Decorated with modern art and elegant furnishing, which compliment the timber walls and ceilings, this traditional-style chalet is both stylish and welcoming in equal measure.

Chalet Place Blanche is great for larger groups of adults as there are two fabulous living spaces, each with warming open fires, as well as an additional bar area downstairs. So there is plenty of room for everyone to relax and unwind comfortably after a day on the slopes.

A separate office area and a TV room, equipped with a wide range of DVDs and games, as well as a Nintendo Wii, means that when you aren't on the slopes there is lots to keep you entertained.

The bedrooms are spacious, super-cosy and individually designed with modern furniture whilst also being combined with a more traditional timber chalet-style to create a restful but varied feel. One even has a glass-roofed en-suite that allows you to lie in the roll top bath and look up at the stars.

Everything will be ready and waiting for you when you return for some serious relaxation ahead of your night of fine food, fine wines and fun. A sliding door screens off the dining room and kitchen, while your chef prepares your evening meal – alternatively, you might like to watch the master at work, while you chat over drinks and canapés.

Before setting off for the slopes each morning you'll sit down to a hearty breakfast and when you return, afternoon tea will be ready and waiting for you.

Pre-dinner drinks and canapés are served while your chef prepares a delicious four-course evening meal. Arrangements are flexible, however, so if you prefer a lighter meal, or just a bowl of something simple and comforting on the sofa you have only to ask.

If you wish to create a more intimate atmosphere whilst your chef prepares your evening meal it is possible to separate the main dining room and kitchen off from the lower living area via a hidden sliding door.
