

Heinz Julen Loft Zermatt, Switzerland

What we love...

We love the rock and roll decadence of the rotating bed in the master bedroom, the Jacuzzi in the living room and the uber stylish coffee table. Oh, and the Heinz Julen Loft also has spectacular panoramic views.

So who is Heinz Julen? And what's so special about his loft? Well, he's a Zermatt designer with breath-taking panache, and he created this place as his party pad. Against a backdrop of glass, textured concrete and steel, each piece of furniture in the Heinz Julen Loft is beautifully crafted and mostly designed by the man himself. The double height living area is home to a grand piano and an under-lit coffee table that can be raised to the ceiling. Well, there isn't the space here to describe every feature, but you get the idea. It is decadent designer heaven.

From Zermatt's quaint, spellbinding streets you step into the lift to ascend through the mountain to your luxury ski chalet. Perched up high, you have some of the best views of the twinkling lights of Zermatt through your vast windows. As dusk settles, your chalet host serves Champagne and canapés whilst the chef prepares a gourmet, four course feast.

Gradually, you turn up the sound on the music system as the party spirit takes hold. Who can resist the funky vibe of this Manhattan style apartment? – it was made for partying. You don't even have to clear away the empty bottles and glasses in the morning. Just tuck in to a reviving breakfast and let the staff perform their magic.

The Heinz Julen Loft feels like a design studio, flooded with light and full of original touches such as door handles and chandeliers made from old cutlery and the cantilevered bar. And when it comes to relaxing in the granite Jacuzzi, where else could it be but suspended on a glass mezzanine above the living room? But don't worry if you get a little carried away with all this self-indulgence, because this luxury ski chalet is also very private. Huge wraparound electric curtains can quickly shield you from the outside world, and the light-filled eyrie doubles up as a secluded sanctuary.

Rooms

Heinz Julen Loft sleeps 6 guests in three bedrooms. All rooms have a TV/DVD player.

Overlooking the main loft area there are two bedrooms, one above another; each with an en-suite shower room and balcony.

The master bedroom is set on its own landing and has a walk-in wardrobe, freestanding bath tub and en-suite shower room, seating area and balcony.

Please note that all rooms have Austrian twins beds, which have two separate mattresses but share a base.

This luxury chalet can be taken alongside Heinz Julen Penthouse next door to accommodate 14 people.

Eating

Enjoy the morning by lingering in bed as the attentive staff bring you a cup of coffee. Then feast on a delicious breakfast to set you up for a day in the mountains. The experienced professional chef and host are on hand to ensure that your taste buds are as stimulated as your other senses at this repository of cool.

A spread of afternoon treats awaits your return from the slopes, reviving your spirits after an invigorating day on the slopes. Later, enjoy champagne alongside pre-dinner canapés to take the edge off your hunger as you await dinner. Your private chef can tailor the dishes according to your tastes, so just let us know whether you prefer things light and healthy, fragrant and spicy, rich and creamy, or all of the above.

A selection of hand-picked house wines is included in the rental cost, as is the pre-dinner champagne and the drinks in the chalet's open bar. If you have a particular favourite vintage or spirit that isn't in stock, just let us know and we will have it ready for you, for an extra charge.
