

Villa Alessia Santorini, Greece

What we love...

We love the Jacuzzi on the sun terrace.

Combining the best of cutting-edge architecture and traditional Greek style, this luxury villa on Santorini just seems to sparkle against the deep blue Santorini sky.

Set just on the edge of the quiet, unspoilt village of Megalochori, every care has been taken to keep the building in keeping with its surroundings and to minimise its impact on its environment, right down to the eco-friendly mattresses in the bedrooms.

Inside, a palette of whites and earthy neutrals gives the villa a calm and relaxing atmosphere.

Sweeping curved arches here and there echo the arcs of the church roofs you can see from the windows, bringing a typically Santorini style.

The cool, spa-like interior is just the tonic for anyone seeking a complete break from it all. Whether you're soaking in the outdoor Jacuzzi with a good book, enjoying the sunset over a glass of wine from the outdoor dining area or cosied up indoors, cocooned in Villa Alessia's warm welcome, every moment you're here you'll feel pampered and peaceful in your island hideaway.
