

Villa Camelia Guest House

Tuscany, Italy

What we love...

We love the fabulous views of the pool and Tuscan countryside from this cosy hideaway.

Romantic, restful and really quite special - the perfect intimate bolthole for two. The Villa Camelia Guest House is a luxury villa in Tuscany with its own private pool and stunning surroundings!

Small, but perfectly designed, the property comprises a light and airy bedroom, with a flatscreen TV, and a lovely bathroom with views out onto the pool and the rolling Tuscan hills. The cosy living room, meanwhile, looks out onto the gardens. A charming kitchenette and outdoor dining area give you the perfect excuse to throw together an easy meal from the wonderful local ingredients on offer, and spend the evening outside with a few plates of Italian specialities and a bottle of wine, watching the sun sink over the hills.

The villa benefits from the friendly service offered by Villa Camelia's staff. Whether you would like help with restaurant bookings or someone to open your umbrellas each morning to create a shady spot for you to relax with a book, a member of staff will be on hand to take care of it.

As cool and contemporary on the inside as it is traditionally Tuscan on the outside, with its burnt orange exterior and Italianate tiled roof, this is a dream location for two people to create memories to last a lifetime.
