What we love...

We love the private seafront location at this luxury Caribbean villa.

Enjoy all the perks of a world-class hotel in the quiet of your own luxury villa with private chef. Villa Ivy is truly a luxury home from home.

Manicured gardens and shady terraces tumble down towards the sea. And of course, you won't be expected to share it with anyone else – the private beach is all yours for the week, with its turquoise warm waters, perfect for ocean-lovers of all ages, small private deck for sunbathing and comfortable loungers. The perfect backdrop for Ivy's renowned waterfront barbecue or a party, all arranged and executed expertly by the villa's staff.

Back up at this luxury villa there are two pools to cater both to those who want to float quietly, with a cocktail within reach as well as those who want to splash, play and get a few lengths in. The main pool is made of natural stone and mosaic and can be heated on request. Flanked by palm trees, it has a relaxed, tropical feel. The second pool is up on the terrace and has fabulous ocean views. Fitness fans will enjoy the tennis court with pavilion and fully equipped gym, too.

Inside, this luxury villa has a beautifully fresh colonial feel throughout from the bright and airy bedrooms with marble weaved into the bathrooms to indoor lounge areas where the natural light floods in through open doors.

There's so much space here for a large group to make the most of at this luxury villa. A separate building houses three of the bedroom suites with its own kitchen and lounge, where grandparents can enjoy some peace and quiet. Huge entertainment spaces are complemented by intimate nooks in which to dine, read and relax. Ivy is a luxury villa which truly caters to everyone's whims.
