

Villa Marisela Marbella, Spain

What we love...

We love the prime position of this fabulously luxurious villa, standing in its own grounds yet a stone's throw from the beating heart of Marbella. Having three swimming pools, a full sized gym and a vast 2,500 square metres of space is impressive too.

'Surely there's been some mistake', you think, as the taxi glides through the gates of the Villa Marisela in Marbella. This must be the wrong address, perhaps the home of some multi-millionaire celebrity. But no, there is no mistake. Ultra-cool and contemporary, Villa Marisela is a well-kept secret, known only to a select few. This luxury villa sits in two acres of landscaped grounds, yet is only ten minutes from the Marbella's hotbed of hedonism. And it's all yours.

As you survey the manicured lawns, complete with two swimming pools, outdoor bar and elegant terraces, you can reflect on your good fortune. The Concha mountains rise up behind, as you look out over Marbella to the glittering Mediterranean. Villa Marisela combines semi-rural seclusion with high tech, on a grand scale. From the double height entrance hall to the stunning indoor pool, it's the perfect pad for parties.

Once you've explored the spacious, airy ground floor living spaces and the beautiful bedrooms, it's time to venture down to the basement.

Bring your towel and swimming costume because here you will find your own private five star wellness centre. There's a heated swimming pool and plunge pool, a sauna, a full size gym and a massage room. Villa Marisela is dedicated to your pleasure.

The basement has other delights too. Slink down here after dinner for a few cocktails in the uber-cool bar area, and challenge friends and family to a game of poker. The private cinema room is a great place to chill out with a refreshing drink, a big bowl of popcorn and your favourite movie. But try not to spend all your time in the basement. You'll miss out on the wonderful Spanish sunshine and the buzz of Marbella's busy streets.

Whatever you need on your luxury villa holiday at Villa Marisela it can be arranged from a private chef, to chauffeurs, concierge services and nannies - it's just a phone call away.
