

Villa Pascale

Ibiza, Spain

What we love...

We love the outdoor space at this luxury villa – mature gardens, seating areas, tennis court and pool.

Bedecked with bougainvillea, this pretty, white finca style villa is a welcoming sight as you arrive. Villa Pascale is nestled within private grounds extending to 60,000m², that include lush lawns fringed with palms, winding paths through borders in bloom, shady patios with hidden seating areas, tennis courts, barbecue spots and a wonderful pool terrace with a view.

Inside the villa, too, there are lots of places to find a quiet spot to relax with a drink and a book. As well as the living and dining spaces, there's a TV room/library and a chill-out zone with views to the exterior. The rustic stone and woods used to build the villa are perfectly set off by a relaxed coastal style in a palette of whites and neutrals, which gives a home-from-home feel to this luxury villa.

Three of the individually designed bedrooms have their own independent entrances, which makes this a great property for several families, or an inter-generational family group, to share. There's plenty of room for everyone to both come together as a group as well as find a little 'alone time' to relax.

With Ibiza Town a short drive away, there is plenty to amuse you both nearby and at home at Villa Pascale. All you have to do is choose your book, your drink and your view and then sit back and enjoy.
