

Villa Roca Ibiza, Spain

What we love...

We love this modernist shrine to the Balearic party scene. Villa Roca has everything a self-respecting hedonist could wish for, including a team of dedicated staff and an unbeatable location.

Voted one of the 5 most fabulous villas in the world - Harpers Bazar

Possibly the most hotly desired villa in Ibiza, Villa Roca is a residence with superstar status. But even if you don't have a private jet and a large entourage, you will still feel like a million dollars at this luxury villa.

Carved into the mountainside at 200m above sea level, it spreads over multiple levels with a host of terraces and spectacular views. Villa Roca is very secluded, set amidst a fragrant pine forest and nature reserve, yet only 6km from Ibiza Town. The jewel in the crown is a huge infinity pool beneath which lurks a cave.

Imagine you are the hottest DJ on the planet, a world famous film star, or perhaps a high rolling tycoon. Perhaps you don't have to pretend, so just don your designer shades and have some fun. Villa Roca's team of quietly efficient staff provide the full VIP treatment, whoever you are.

Shimmering white in the Ibiza heat, Villa Roca is furnished in a minimalist, hipster style. There are 500m sq of living space, plus 600m sq of outdoor terraces. Most importantly, Villa Roca is the perfect party pad, with several bars and chill-out areas, not to mention the DJ mixing desk and alfresco dance floor.

In fact, why bother going out to Ibiza's legendary nightclubs when you have the best and most exclusive club right here. And you are in charge of the guest list. You can play your favourite tunes and relax on the roof terrace or beside the pool. Delicious aromas waft up from the two BBQs and steam rises from the oversized Jacuzzi as the butlers pour your drinks.

And what better way to recover from a fabulous party than to recline on the pool deck in the sun, cooled by the spring water mist system and inspired by the jaw-dropping views. If it's shady retreat you crave, the Bedouin tent style den on the rooftop is perfect. Or you can slink down to the spa room for an indulgent massage or beauty treatment. Heaven.

Villa Roca

Kids

Villa Roca may be a great party venue, but it also makes a fantastic family holiday base. Kids will adore exploring all the terraces and splashing in the pool (though it may not be suitable for toddlers). The kids are likely to vote this the best pool ever, with its submerged windows and a cave below.

Trips out to visit Ibiza's wonderful beaches and bustling towns are no problem either. Ibiza town is a few minutes' drive away, as are the local beaches of Salinas and Es Cavellet. Chauffeured cars can be arranged on request. And, whatever games or equipment you desire, just ask and the villa staff can provide.

Older children might also appreciate private sports instructors and entertainers, whilst little ones might need professional nannies and child-minders. All these arrangements can be made on your behalf to ensure that everyone has a wonderful time at Villa Roca.
