

Villa di Roma Rome, Italy

What we love...

We love Villa di Roma's delightful gardens, all lit up at night, and its tranquil yet convenient location. What a luxurious way to experience the beautiful city of Rome.

It's La Dolce Vita all the way at Villa di Roma. Set on the edge of idyllic parklands in Rome, this luxury villa is not far from the city centre. The house itself is an oasis of tranquillity with lush private gardens and a stunning swimming pool, surrounded by tall trees.

During the day, just relax and listen to the birdsong in your extensive, manicured gardens. As dusk settles, take a meandering stroll through the grounds, your path illuminated by twinkling lights. It's hard to believe that Villa di Roma, in the Monteverde district, is just a stone's throw from the dust and noise of central Rome. A driver service can take you into town or surrounding areas, and Trastevere, the Vatican and the Gianicolo are practically on the doorstep.

Your home from home has every comfort, from a private gym and pool table to a PC in the study. If you fancy dining out, your concierge can have you whisked off to Rome's finest restaurants.

If you fancy dining in, there is an elegant dining room, or you can eat alfresco. The large, well-equipped kitchen is ready and waiting for a private chef and assistants to install themselves. Just let us know your staffing requirements, from nannies to chauffeurs, fitness instructors to chefs.

It's up to you whether you start the day with a dip in the pool, a workout in the gym, or lazing in bed. At the end of a day exploring Rome, just relax with a drink on the terrace or challenge friends and family to a game of pool. Forget cramped hotel rooms and shared facilities. At Villa di Roma there are no other guests to disturb your peace or occupy your favourite pool lounge.

You are the lord of this elegant manor, and Rome is your playground. Take a drive through the city streets in a vintage car, or learn about Italian food in a private cookery class. Whatever you desire, from pri

Eating

Being in Rome, Italian food is bound to play a starring role in your stay at Villa di Roma. Whether you opt for hiring a private chef, at an additional cost, is up to you. You'll be welcomed with an inviting drink on arrival to get your luxury villa holiday off to the right start, and in the mornings a delicious continental breakfast buffet is laid out to set you up for the day.

When it comes to lunch and dinner, of course, a highly trained private chef creating mouth-watering meals in the kitchen is one option. This is ideal if you plan to spend time at the villa, or perhaps if you are staying with children. You can dine alfresco in the gardens, or in the cool rooms of the villa. There is even a romantic tower where a table can be set.

Alternatively, you can still enjoy freshly cooked meals without a full time chef. If you would like Italian pizzas for lunch, a spread of delicatessen treats, or a three course dinner delivered to Villa di Roma, just ask. Dishes can be ordered from the nearby Italian restaurant and a local delicatessen.
