

Zermatt Lodge Zermatt, Switzerland

What we love...

Taking in the mountain views from the private Jacuzzi hot tub and soothing tired muscles in the private sauna.

An amazing location demands an amazing interior to go with it and Chalet Zermatt does not disappoint.

This beautifully designed apartment, on the top floor of the building, has bags of style and acres of space.

The focal point of the apartment is a quirky suspended fireplace, with wood surround and cow hide stools around it – a fab place to warm up over afternoon tea following your day on the slopes.

A neutral palette lets the natural beauty of the aged wood floors and lovely light wood rafters really sing. Two incredibly comfy seating areas offer spots to relax and chat or for the kids to watch a film.

The dining room is a spacious and sociable open-plan area, where you'll be happy to linger for hours over dinner, all cooked by your top chef in the professionally equipped kitchen.

To soothe aching muscles and restore the soul, the lodge boasts its own sauna for you and your party to relax in. And if some me-time is what you're after, each of the bedrooms is a little haven in its own right – crisp white bedlinen, a TV and DVD player in every room and a spa-style ensuite where you can pamper yourself. If you win the arm wrestle, go for the master suite with its own bath tub perched in front of the little stove – incredibly cosy!

From the balcony terraces, where there is an outdoor hot tub, you'll be treated to a stunning view of Zermatt's rooftops and, of course, the Matterhorn itself.

Food is top of the agenda at the Zermatt Lodge. You'll wake in the morning to tea or coffee in bed, served with your mountain views. Following this, a delicious continental spread, or cooked breakfast, will set you up for a day on the slopes.

When you return from skiing, afternoon tea and treats will be ready and waiting to revive you for the evening ahead, when champagne and canapés will be served while your private chef rustles up an amazing four-course gourmet dinner for you.

There is an open bar, including spirits, beer and soft drinks, and a complimentary selection of house wines chosen to accompany your meals are on tap, although a larger fine wine list is available on request for an additional fee. If you have a particular favourite tippie, just let your concierge know to have it ready for you.

The chef has one day off a week when your chalet host will be delighted to book one of Zermatt's excellent restaurants for you.

Zermatt Lodge

Zermatt has lots going on for children. You'll find something available to keep them all busy, from junior ski school to snowboarding, crafts and movies.

Your concierge will be happy to arrange nannies, childminders or crèche visits to suit your family.
