

Chalet Le Rocher Courchevel 1850, France

What we love...

We love the extensive spa facilities including an indoor swimming pool, Jacuzzi, Hammam and sauna.

Few properties in the French Alps impose themselves on the luxury ski chalet scene with more grandeur than Chalet Le Rocher.

Set in the exclusive ski resort of Courchevel 1850 in the fashionable Ville de Cospillot, the contemporary chalet clad in stone and aged timber, cascades through five majestic floors. Le Rocher has left no stone unturned when it comes to its conception. Five luxurious bedrooms are all scattered across two floors each offering cavernous luxury for all ten guests. Each with their own stylish en-suite bathrooms and, naturally views across the snowy valley outside, there is an exclusivity here that few of its contemporaries can compete with.

There are too many fabulous features to list at Le Rocher but the overall quality and style of this chalet is most prominent in the vast open-plan living area. A beautifully vaulted timber roof affords the room some added cosiness whilst fashionable furniture adorns every corner. Set off by classic Baroque and modern, contemporary ornaments, the living area provides a relaxed, cosy but sophisticated setting for you, your friends and family to spend time together. No luxury ski chalet would be complete without a roaring log fire and it hasn't been overlooked here. Set deep in the chimney breast stonework, the flames produce a flickering shimmer across the pale grey carpentry and artisan masonry, completing the perfect setting for your Alpine retreat.

As you descend through its palatial staircase, Le Rocher is a building that keeps on giving; the lower two floors in particular are where the fun begins. On one floor you have the spa and wellness area: a gorgeous swimming pool set in the rocky foundations of the basement. A warm azure glow greets you along with a vast sculpture of a polar bear at one end. A mammoth TV lies on the wall above the pool making a unique spot to enjoy a movie or catch up on world affairs. An indoor Jacuzzi, Hammam and sauna accompany the proceedings making it the complete wellness spa area your luxury ski chalet deserves.

The other floor bestows a bar and home cinema area with movie titles for all the family to enjoy on the big screen. The comfy sofas and professional hosts on hand bringing you any tipples you so desire, combine to make Le Rocher one of the finest luxury ski chalets in Courchevel 1850.
