

San Lorenzo City Lodge Rome, Italy

What we love...

Beautiful apartment in Rome located inside the Sant'Agnese Church overlooking the Fountain of Four Rivers.

To sum up this luxury apartment in Rome in a single word, we'd have to say 'exquisite' though the word hardly does justice to Holy Deer San Lorenzo City Lodge, which stands regally on the famous Piazza Navona.

When you step from the stairs into the apartment itself, you are truly stepping into a piece of history, a different time, and another opulent place altogether. Be prepared to leave real life behind. Stunning frescoes depicting bible stories and tales of the saints adorn virtually every ceiling. You find yourself looking up, whenever you step through another doorway, to enjoy the surprises around every corner.

The husband-and-wife team who renovated Sant'Agnese have clearly done so with the utmost love and care. Artisans were employed to ensure every item of furniture and furnishings was made with attention, and historical experts brought in to help make certain the work that was done was true to the times. Muted grey walls allow every colourful and splendid detail to sing and transport you seamlessly to Baroque times.

The apartment is flanked by the two fabulous bedrooms, both with their own unique views. Each bedroom has a luxury bathroom attached so guests have their own 'suites' at either end of the property. Between, there are several communal living areas where you can get together with your group to socialise or relax. The dining room provides an atmospheric spot for meals. There's also a music room, complete with grand piano, a library for a bit of quiet contemplation, a bar with lounge and TV area, and more spaces that give everyone somewhere to gather and entertain in opulent style and also to find a quiet moment to themselves. Everywhere you look there are comfortable seating areas, created using the finest furnishings and designer pieces, combined with unique works of art to provide a talking point at every turn. There is also a studio, a wet kitchen and staff quarters.

This is truly a magical property, and step outside and you're instantly in the very heart of Rome's most famous streets. It's the perfect combination of privacy and public life, ancient and contemporary - they're the cornerstones Rome was built on.

Come and visit and enjoy being transported to another world.

San Lorenzo City Lodge

Rooms

Apartment Sant’Agnese sleeps 4 + 1 guests across two luxury bedrooms.

Bedroom one

Known as The Pope’s room, this luxury double room overlooks the Piazza Navona, from 4.5m high windows that open onto a balcony. A king-size bed atop a platform is enclosed by two velvet curtains - a sleep fit for a king. Elsewhere the furniture is decorated by melding brass onto wood sourced from trunks from South Tyrol, for a rich, glowing effect. The luxury en-suite bathroom has a whirlpool bath just off it, where you can spend many an hour unwinding in the bubbles.

Bedroom two

Overlooking the pretty Via dell’Anima, this beautiful bedroom has a stunning walk-in dressing room and an en-suite bathroom. The walk-in dressing room is much more than simply a place to hang your clothes, however. Inside you’ll find original sketches referencing Italy’s fine tailoring by Gaetano Savini, founder of Brioni, one of the country’s great fashion houses. The dressing room doors are covered in pure cashmere tiles and the interior lined with fine silk and with velvet curtains. It’s a work of art in itself.

Eating

Continental breakfast and afternoon tea are provided by the staff each day.

Rome must be one of the world’s best cities in which to enjoy good food and fine wines, and there’s much to explore. You’ll be given a copy of the Apartment’s exclusive Good Food Guide To Rome, which you’re sure to want to make the most of. Sant’Agnese’s staff will be only too pleased to help you book tables in any of the city’s restaurants.

If you prefer to eat in the privacy of your luxury apartment, a private chef can be arranged, too.
