

Chalet Inuit Val d'Isere

What we love...

We love the elegant spa, with an inviting sunken Jacuzzi, sauna, and relaxation area, the perfect place to unwind after a day on the slopes.

Perched just above Val d'Isère, this luxury ski chalet benefits from a private location surrounded by snowy forest, yet is just a short drive from the town centre and pistes. With an authentic alpine feel that blends traditional wood and stone with modern facilities, Chalet Inuit is a charming setting for your luxury ski holiday.

Wake to breathtaking panoramic views across the valley, which you can enjoy from the large terrace with your morning coffee. Collect your skis and toasty boots from the ski room with heated boot warmers, and the in-resort driver service will whisk you to the slopes in minutes so you don't waste a moment of precious ski time.

After a day exploring Val d'Isère's extensive ski area, head down to the stunning spa to soak sore legs in the sunken Jacuzzi, warm up in the sauna, or simply sip your pre-dinner kir on one of the loungers.

The sociable open plan living space is perfectly tailored to friends or family groups. Here, you'll tuck into delicious meals delivered to your door, or whip up your own feast in the fully equipped kitchen, depending on which service level you've chosen. Afterwards, sink into the sofas with cosy sheepskin throws and enjoy a glass of wine by the open fire, or swap stories of your day on the mountain.

Chalet Inuit has five bedrooms for you to retreat to, each with its own en-suite and TV, and including one family suite with children's bunk beds. Warmly decorated and exceptionally comfortable, they're the perfect place to rest up for tomorrow's adventures.

Eating

Chalet Inuit is available with a choice of service level, so you can tailor your holiday to your preferences.

If you choose 'contactless catering', you'll arrive at the chalet to find the kitchen stocked with delicious pre-prepared meals and ingredients for you to make your own sides, as well as a Champagne reception. All you'll need to do is heat up some of the dishes, throw together a salad, and tuck into your meal – all without the need for chalet staff.

Each day begins with a hearty breakfast, and when you return famished after a long day on the slopes, you'll find afternoon tea and snacks waiting for you. On six nights of every week, you'll be treated to a three-course dinner, pre-dinner kir and nibbles, and cheese. Finish the evening curled up by the fire with a glass of the unlimited red and white wine.

If you prefer to cook your own meals in the spacious kitchen or sample several of Val d'Isère's many superb restaurants, you can choose the self-catered option.

Chalet Inuit

Kids

Chalet Inuit's layout is perfectly suited to younger guests, with a family suite situated just off the living area so you can keep an eye on your little ones while relaxing in the evenings. Children will love taking a dip in the Jacuzzi, or watching a film as you and your friends snack on nibbles in the dining area nearby.

Accessing the slopes with children in tow is hassle-free thanks to the in-resort driver service. Skis and lift passes can be pre-booked so there's no traipsing around the resort on your arrival.

Please note that Chalet Inuit is situated at the top of a steep mountain road, which is not well suited to little legs or pushchairs. We recommend using the in-resort driver service if you wish to travel into the resort centre.
