

Chalet Azurite Chamonix, France

What we love...

We love the outdoor hot tub on the terrace with views of the mountains.

Why bother with artworks when Mother Nature is providing your very own gallery? Chalet Azurite makes the very most of what's naturally on offer with a frontage that's almost entirely made of glass, and which looks straight out onto the mountains.

While this luxury ski chalet has traditional good looks, made from rustic woods and stone and using traditional Alpine design, mod cons are a big part of life here, too. For your comfort, air con, WiFi and TVs are installed in every room, so every member of your party has somewhere to escape to if you need it.

A sociable open-plan living space provides space for lounging and also dining, with a sofa area and a welcoming fireplace, and access to the kitchen. There's also a separate TV area, where you can catch the news or settle the kids with a film in the early evening while the grown-ups enjoy canapés and a glass of bubbly.

Practicalities have been taken care of too, with a garage with ski racks and boot warmers to make it easy to kick off your kit and trudge straight indoors when you get home. It's clear that every last thing has been thought of to make your stay as stress-free as possible.

In the evenings, escape to the south-facing terrace, which has panoramic mountain views as well as an outdoor hot tub where you can bubble away any aches and pains picked up on the slopes over a glass of wine and a good lungful of fresh mountain air.

By the time your head hits the luxury pillows you'll be ready for a long and deep sleep before tomorrow's excitement.

Eating

Food and drink are a vital part of any luxury ski holiday but at Chalet Azurite you can tailor it all precisely to your wishes.

If you want to be completely looked after, you can opt for a catered service with Champagne reception, breakfast and afternoon tea served daily and then an evening of canapés followed by a four-course dinner and open bar.

Alternatively, you're welcome to cater for yourselves completely, making use of the well equipped kitchen to cook up a storm. Should you wish to dine out on some evenings, you're well placed to sample the delights of Chamonix's restaurant scene, a short walk away.

Chalet Azurite

Kids

Chalet Azurite is a luxury family-friendly ski chalet where younger visitors are made most welcome. The chalet has an open-plan layout with plenty of space to play and outdoor areas, too, for when they need to let off steam.

There is a quad bunk room that younger kids will love, as well as its own mezzanine floor with four beds that have views of the stars through the skylights. Each of the bedrooms has its own TV and there's WiFi throughout, which will be music to the ears of tweens and teens.

The chalet's close proximity to Le Savoy beginner's slopes is a huge bonus for families with children.
