

Villa Salacia

Amalfi Coast, Italy

What we love...

We love the crystal clear infinity swimming pool with hydro massage seats, with breathtaking views of the ocean, Marina del Cantone and the Galli islands beyond...

Find a feeling of total peace at this luxury villa near Sorrento, perched right on the edge of the sea on the Amalfi Coast.

Villa Salacia is a simply stunning Italian villa with its own access to the beach, a private cable car, shady terraces to sit beneath, and an amazing infinity edge pool that feels like swimming on the very edge of the world. There's even a heated outdoor shower to rinse off under after your swim.

The property is built across several levels, inside and out, with a lift or steps taking you between all the different floors and terraces. You can virtually live outside here, with outdoor rooms arranged to make the most of the beautiful views, and garden furniture that's built for hours of comfortable lounging in the sunshine with the sound of waves always lapping in the background.

The interior has been carefully designed to be just as appealing, with a palette of white and coastal blues, providing a light and airy feel that echoes the natural colours of the outdoors.

Six bedrooms, each with their own private or en-suite bathrooms, give everyone a cool and airy place to escape to with a book and lay their head at the end of each day. The communal living space with three capacious sofas extends out onto the pool terrace, allowing indoor and outdoor to become one. A spacious dining area gives you all somewhere to enjoy leisurely meals indoors should you get a showery evening during your stay.

This is a fabulous location. Guests of this luxury villa have direct access to the adjacent beach club, either a private cable car and pathway down to the sea, where you can easily spend whole days on the beach.

From the terraced gardens and large floor-to-ceiling windows there are views of Marina del Cantone and the Galli islands; it's a magical place to sit and take in, whether you're cooking your own pizzas in the garden's pizza oven with friends, enjoying a hydra massage in the pool or curled up in the outdoor living room with a long drink and a good book. However you best enjoy your R&R time, you'll find it at Villa Salacia.

If you wish to cater for yourselves, the kitchen is beautifully set up with oven, microwave, wine cooler, fridge freezer, dishwasher, ice machine, moka pot, coffee maker, toaster and practically every other gadget you can think of.

The area is home to some of the best seafood you'll ever taste and there are fresh food markets and stalls everywhere you go, so you'll never be without local seasonal food to cook.

You are blessed with fabulous restaurants and tavernas here but we particularly like Ristorante Don Alfonso 1890 in the nearby village of Santa Agata.

Alternatively, a chef service can be arranged to cater for your entire stay if you prefer to eat in the privacy of your villa.

Please note that cleaning of the kitchen at the end of your stay is not included in the villa price. Any additional charges are to be paid in Euros directly on the premises.
