

Chalet Bibi

Verbier, Switzerland

What we love...

We love the sunken cedar wood hot tub overlooking the mountains on the terrace...

A stunning example of swish Swiss style (try saying that after a couple of glasses of wine), this luxury ski chalet in Verbier is the perfect base for a week in 4 Vallées ski area.

Chalet Bibi's secluded and elevated position offers breathtaking views over the surrounding peaks. Advanced skiers can ski off-piste all the way from the Savoleyres side of the mountain back to the chalet's terrace.

When you return from your day's ski, Chalet Bibi really is a sight for sore eyes. The interior communal spaces are truly spectacular. Cathedral-like high ceilings, rustic woods and natural stone create a dramatic but cosy backdrop. Gathered around the impressive stone fireplace are a capacious sofa and mid-century-modern chairs, all generously festooned with warm throws and cushions to make your snowy bolthole as welcoming as can be.

In the large, farmhouse-style kitchen, which is set a little away from the living areas, a high-spec bar has been installed where you can drink, chat and watch your talented chef at work whipping up a spectacular four-course dinner for you.

The outdoor spaces are pretty special, too, with breathtaking views from the south-facing terraces across the mountains and a superb outdoor sunken cedar wood hot tub to relax in. For those for whom pampering is a priority, there is also a fabulous sauna and Hammam where you can soothe any aching muscles after a few hours on Verbier's slopes.

Each of the uber-comfortable bedrooms has bags of contemporary Alpine style, the highest quality furnishings and spa-style en-suites, making each the perfect bolthole from the world when you need to find a bit of peace and space. And peace and space you will find here in spades, whether you're snuggled under a luxury duvet with a book and a glass of wine, or out on the balcony, hands wrapped around a mug of rich hot chocolate, taking in that awe-inspiring mountain view. Up here at one of Verbier's highest points you'll feel like king of the world.

Eating

Food and drink are a key part of any luxury ski holiday and it's certainly the case at Chalet Bibi. Each morning starts with both cooked and continental breakfast offerings, served by your chef and host, so you can leave for the slopes well-fuelled for the day's adventures.

When you return to your chalet, afternoon tea, coffee and freshly baked treats are waiting for you. On six evenings, Champagne and canapés are served before dinner, followed by a three-course dinner, each course introduced by your chef, and then a locally inspired cheeseboard, coffees and digestifs. To accompany this delicious food, you have a choice of hand-picked house wines, soft drinks, beers and 3 bottles of house spirits.

If required, your chef can cater specifically to children's dinner time, with dishes that will appeal to younger palates.

On the chef's night off, the chalet's staff will be only too happy to assist you with restaurant bookings at the best restaurants in Val d'Isere.

Alternatively, Chalet Bibi can be taken on self-catered basis if you prefer.

Chalet Bibi

Kids

Verbier itself is a great ski resort for families and there's plenty of help at hand, with ski and boot delivery to your chalet as well as an in-resort driver service, making it easy to get around.

When they're not on the slopes, children will love splashing around in the outdoor hot tub at Chalet Bibi. The separate TV room is also sure to be popular when all they want is to collapse in front of a film.

In the evenings, the chef will prepare a dedicated children's tea that even fusspots are sure to enjoy. That way, kids aren't under pressure to behave at the dinner table and the adults can enjoy a more leisurely meal later on.

Childcare, highchairs and cots can be arranged on request.
