

Domaine de l'Orme Meribel

What we love...

We love the pared-back but sumptuous design of this beautiful chalet with private spa - it's just impossible not to relax here.

Step through the door of Domaine de l'Orme and you enter a magical winter wonderland. Vaulted ceilings and floor-to-ceiling windows offer magnificent views of the snowy mountainside, while you remain cosied up in front of a flickering wood fire. It's hard to imagine somewhere more inviting.

The living space is at the heart of this modern-rustic property with rough-hewn woods, neutral shades and an autumnal palette of slubby fabrics used for furnishings all combining for an enchanted forest feel. With the enormous, cathedral-style windows looking out onto the picture-postcard scenery, there's really no need for artworks to catch your eye, but tastefully chosen pieces are dotted about, making this house a real home. A statement chandelier, huge fireplace and carefully designed lighting give the whole living space a cosy glow and, in the daytime, sunlight floods in.

Adjacent to the living area is an intimate dining room, seating 14, where you will enjoy gourmet food, cooked by your private chef. Mellow woods and huge, rattan pendant lights make this a room where it's easy to relax and happily spend several hours enjoying good food, fine wines and excellent company.

There's plenty to keep everyone entertained on snowy afternoons, too. The chalet's private spa is a stunning space, with indoor pool, Hammam, massage room and restful relaxation area. Don't miss the opportunity to relax with a glass of something bubbly in the sunken wooden outdoor hot tub, surrounded by snowy forest but warm as toast. Then, for a truly lazy afternoon, hunker down in the cinema room with blankets and popcorn in front of a film.

This beautiful property offers wonderful additional spaces such as the library, an office space, if you need to catch up on a few emails, as well as a lounge area with foosball table and some carefully chosen toys and games for children. Then there's the cosy TV snug on the mezzanine level where you might like to chill out with snacks and your favourite Netflix boxset.

With the chalet's staff always on hand to ensure everything runs smoothly, every pillow plumped and every drink topped up, your only job is to exhale deeply and make the most of every moment in this magical retreat in Meribel.

Eating

Domaine de l'Orme's chefs will be in touch before your holiday to help plan your perfect menus. Whether you want a gastronomic tasting menu, uncomplicated comfort food on the sofa, or a mix of both, the chalet team will be only too happy to provide.

Breakfast and after-ski snacks are also provided by the chalet's chef, ensuring you are well-fuelled before you head out in the mornings and warmed through as soon as you arrive home.

While your chef is busy cooking up a storm in the kitchen, the chalet manager and host are on hand to serve meals, top up drinks and ensure you have everything you need. One staff day off, the concierge service will be happy to help you with bookings for all the best restaurants in Meribel.

*Please note that food and drink is charged for separately at the end of your stay.
