

Villa Beba Dubrovnik

What we love...

We love the outdoor 'loggia' with summer kitchen and a dining table, covered by a roof, so you can sit outside, enjoying the view, even if a rain shower suddenly rolls in.

Perched in a unique position just outside Dubrovnik's city walls, and with views out over the sea and the island of Lokrum, Villa Beba has something for everyone.

The historic villa has been beautifully renovated and carefully decorated to reflect both the building's heritage and the area's rich culture. Antiques that have been in the villa for years and galleries of historic photographs of the villa's original family bring a homely feel to this magnificent building.

With three terraces, you'll want to make the most of the outdoors. The terraces have amazing views out to sea and of the Old Town and plenty of spots to relax both in the shade and the sun. The main terrace has a large swimming pool with loungers and outdoor sofas dotted about. There's also a smaller terrace with cushioned seating area looking out to sea. Finally, the top terrace is set up for outdoor dining, with a summer kitchen (comprising barbecue, fridge and ice machine to keep those cocktails cool.) The dining area is set inside a beautiful loggia, covered over so that you can enjoy meals in the fresh air under shelter.

On the ground floor, a light and airy living space, incorporating a living room, dining room and well-equipped kitchen, provide space for your whole party to gather comfortably. The shared living areas are perfect for the heat of the day, when you can escape to the air-conditioned interior with a book. Sumptuous furnishings and Mediterranean style artworks make it a wonderful place to relax and just soak up the atmosphere. And of course, with sea views as stunning as this, taking the time to simply stop and stare is always a good idea.

Each of the five luxury bedrooms is individually designed to create relaxed spaces for everyone to call their own. Some are calming and neutral, others have vibrant murals on the walls or beautiful wooden fretwork. With spa-style en-suite bathrooms bringing the feel of a boutique hotel.

For those who appreciate both the great outdoors, and the finer things in life, Villa Beba offers the perfect combination of both.
