

Chalet Columba Grindelwald

What we love...

We love the simply stunning views of the mountains from the front of the chalet.

Combining traditional style with modern home comforts, this newly renovated luxury ski chalet in Grindelwald is an ideal mix of old and new.

From outside, Chalet Columba has typically Swiss good looks, but inside, light woods, minimalist design and Scandi style make this a thoroughly modern ski chalet, perfect for a group of family or friends to relax in together.

Chalet Columba is self-catered, which gives you freedom to spend your time exactly as you wish, exploring the town's après ski and restaurants, and then lounging at home with comfort food on nights when you just want to rest and relax.

The heart of the property is the open-plan living space, with comfy, contemporary sofas, flatscreen

TV and a modern fireplace where you can gather with drinks in the evenings, in front of the roaring flames.

Nearby is a kitchen-diner where you'll cook, chat and enjoy delicious local food and wine long into the evening with your party. And don't miss the outdoor living spaces on the balcony – the perfect spot to sit, snuggled under a throw with a glass of fizz as the stars begin to twinkle and the mountain slowly darkens.

Three bedrooms and a mezzanine area, each with super-comfy king-size bed and luxe linens will be a welcome sight at the end of each day when you're ready to rest legs, weary from the slopes. Snuggle down under thick duvets while the snow falls outside.
