

Ferme Liberté

Les Gets

What we love...

We love the hot tub on the private deck – surrounded by large gardens and snow-dusted forests, it's a magical spot for soothing aching limbs.

Next winter, what could be better than soaking up snowy scenes from a charming private farmhouse transformed into a luxury ski chalet with hot tub. Ferme Liberté sits at the end of a private road, just over a mile from the Les Gets ski lifts – perfect for action-packed adventures by day and peaceful seclusion by night.

This high-spec home has five spacious bedrooms, each featuring its own modern en-suite bathroom. Children will love not only the separate kids play and TV room but also the space in the six-bed bunk room. Perfect for sleepovers with their friends after energetic days on the mountain.

The double-height living area is light and airy, with plenty of alpine charm thanks to traditional wood, soft fabrics and natural chandeliers. It's easy to sprawl out and relax here; the dining room encourages long leisurely dinners with good wine and good company, while the sociable lounge is designed for cosy chats around the roaring fire.

Ferme Liberté also boasts an outdoor kitchen area complete with gas BBQ. Embrace the fusion of food and nature, where meals becomes an adventure, and every gathering a cherished moment. Savour the joy of dining amidst the splendour of the great outdoors under the sun or stars.

Unwind further in the sauna or in the hot tub out on your private deck. Sink into the warm waters with a glass of mulled wine as the snow falls on the forested slopes around you, dusting the trees like icing sugar.

Eating

Excellent food and drink form a big part of your stay in Les Gets, and Ferme Liberté offers you the option of a catered or self-catered luxury ski holiday.

If you opt for a catered stay, you'll wake each day to a delicious breakfast, setting you up for a fun morning on the slopes. Dinner is a three-course affair (six nights per week), encouraging leisurely evenings around the dining table with good food and good company. Local wine and beers also come as part of the package, so you can wash down each course with a few top-notch tipples.

Choosing to stay on a self-catered basis gives you the opportunity to explore more of Les Gets' restaurants, which serve up everything from traditional Savoyard fare to seafood. For a lively après scene, head to popular La Folie Douce on the slopes between Les Gets and Avoriaz.

If cooking up your own family feasts is more your style, you'll find everything you need in the chalet's fully equipped kitchen, complete with double oven, coffee machine and kitchen island. Or head outdoors to whip up scrumptious feasts in the outdoor kitchen area with gas BBQ.

Kids

Children are very welcome at Ferme Liberté. The chalet's private garden provides a space for snowman building and snowball fights, while a generous bunk room sleeping six makes for the best sleepovers.

The separate kids play and TV room means kids can curl up and watch their favourite shows in their own den. Away from the screen, a ping-pong table will provide plenty of fun.

With the ski lifts just over a mile away, and an in-resort driver service included, little legs can focus all their energy on the slopes.

Location

Ferme Liberté is located at the end of a private road, a five-minute drive north of Les Gets' village centre with its superb restaurants, bars and boutiques. You're just over a mile from the ski lifts and there is an in-resort driver service included.

Private parking – complete with electric charging – means Ferme Liberté is also a great option if you plan to drive over to France or hire a car during your stay.

The nearest airport is Geneva, around 1 hour 10 minutes away.
